

Rank transfer is supported for conductivity, TDS, fluoride and nitrate. pH is not supported and routes to direct measurement. Arsenic is evidence-insufficient on 119 observations at 116 sites, which is not a poorly performing model. Every India row carries negative Brier skill, so local recalibration is required before probability-based use.